It's a Pornographic World

Dear Pastor,

The problem of porn is very real and is not limited to the culture outside our churches. It is a problem inside our churches. New technologies have made access to porn incredibly easy for virtually anyone. While most who access it do so intentionally, it also has a way of showing up when people aren't looking for it. And then they get hooked. Not even pastors are immune to the allure of porn. What are we to do?

First, we need to acknowledge that there is a problem. Next we need to address it head on biblically, name it for what it is—sin—and then promote biblical strategies for slaying the dragon of porn. There are some excellent resources available to help, but we need to be realistic. Dragon-slaying takes work and commitment.

Our friend Daniel Weiss, along with his co-author Joshua Glaser, has written Treading Boldly Through a Pornographic World: A Field Guide for Parents (available HERE). Children are encountering and being hooked by porn at ever younger ages. This book is designed to give help and practical direction to avoid the problem to begin with; but if your child is already under siege by this dragon, this book will give help on how to slay the dragon. The authors also give guidance for helping our children develop a biblical vision of healthy human sexuality.

Daniel and Joshua have graciously committed to spending an hour online with us at noon on Wednesday, June 28, in a webinar to tackle this important and timely topic. You can register for this "Lunch with a Purpose" webinar HERE. [If you would like access to a recording of the webinar, please be sure to register, even if you cannot join us for the live webinar.] We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity to learn directly from these men about slaying the dragon of porn.

In Christ,
