Iron Sharpens Iron

During my (Dave Skahen) childhood years, my brothers and I would be very competitive with each other. Whether it was baseball, basketball, football, or a game we made up that day, we played to win. Each of us was skilled in different sports, but my younger brother benefitted the most from two older siblings. He would make bigger strides quicker because he consistently played with older and tougher athletes. Proverbs 27:17 comes to mind when I reflect on this, “Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another (ESV).” However, this is not only true when playing against tougher competitors in athletics; it’s a principle that applies to all of life, especially as it relates to our walk with Christ.

Pastors, I invite you to an opportunity to be sharpened by another worker in the trenches who is standing firm to advance the gospel. On Wednesday, September 11, at 12 pm, we have the honor of hosting Dr. Al Mohler, president of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is the author of numerous books and the host of two podcasts: “The Briefing,” a daily analysis of news and events from a Christian worldview, and “Thinking in Public,” a series of conversations with the day’s leading thinkers. We live in a culture where worldviews clash daily. This clash is seen very clearly in the political realm. Given the divisive nature of our politics and the frustration many of us sense when it comes to elections, we wanted to hear from a respected evangelical voice on the issue of Christians and Politics.

The webinar will also include a time of Q&A from participants at the end. You can register for the event by clicking here. We strongly encourage you to join us online on Wednesday, September 11, at noon. As always, we are grateful for faithful pastors like you who continue to speak truth and stand for the gospel.
